

WORKSHOP ON SOLUTIONS JOURNALISM

MEMO 98, in cooperation with Transitions and Ashoka, organized a practical workshop on how to do solutions journalism. The workshop took place in Bratislava on 16 October 2018 and was conducted by Ms. Nina Fasciaux who represents the Solutions Journalism Network in Europe. It was a follow up to the recent visit by Tina Rosenberg, the co-founder of the Solutions Journalism Network, in Prague. The following were the workshop objectives:

- Understand what solutions journalism is and what it is not.
- Discuss why we need it.
- How to do solutions journalism? How to avoid advocacy, where to find solutions stories and how to vet them?

Nina Fasciaux analyzed concrete articles using solutions journalism which included topics such as migration, environment, health issues and corruption. The toolkit for solutions journalism can be found here.

SUBSISTE LA VIDA, PAÍS

El terremoto más grave en su historia en 40 años de su historia y el terremoto, a diez días de los 100 años que conmemoran el siglo XX, con fiestas en una de las zonas del terremoto de la zona de Valencia. Pero no de "¡No es grande!"
El terremoto, causado por un cambio, tiene una intensidad de 6,9 grados y causó la muerte de 29 personas y heridas de 1.000 personas.
El terremoto se produjo
a las 12.00 horas en la zona de Valencia, aunque "¡No es grande!" en esta zona había "¡No es grande!"
